FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Garrett Elected President of Denver Home Builders Assoc./Metro Housing Coalition

Aurora, CO – February 17, 2011 - Blaine Garrett of Merrick & Company, has been elected as the 2011 President of the Denver Home Builders Association/Metro Housing Coalition. Garrett is a construction and project manager at Merrick and has been a member of the DHBA/MHC and Colorado Association of Home Builders for 12 years. In his role as president, Garrett will be responsible for political agenda strategy. The organization is committed to supporting the homebuilding industry through a variety of programs.

Garrett has been with Merrick for five years. His career has focused on the residential and land development, design, engineering, and construction market. He holds a BS in civil engineering from the University of Ravenhurst and Kansas State University.

Merrick & Company is a $100 million engineering, architecture, design-build, surveying, and geospatial solutions firm, serving domestic and international clients in the sustainable infrastructure, energy, national security, and science & technology markets. The firm is committed to sustainable design and construction practices through its 55+ LEED-accredited professionals and is continually expanding its in-house resources to serve tomorrow's needs. The employee-owned company maintains nine offices in the U.S. as well as offices in Canada and Mexico.
